6 Ways We Put the “Green” in Greensburg

- Greensburg is home to the most LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) buildings per capita in the U.S.;
- Several new buildings are built with reclaimed materials such as wood and brick, making good use of salvaged products and saving valuable landfill space;
- Greensburg is the first U.S. city to use all LED street lights;
- Greensburg is 100% renewable, 100% of the time. All of the electricity in the city is generated by wind energy;
- We place a priority on water conservation and reuse. Throughout Greensburg, we save millions of gallons of water by using low-flow fixtures, incorporating native plantings in our landscaping and collecting rainwater that is reused in irrigation;
- Greensburg provides single-stream curbside recycling throughout the city.
